Score by lnnings:

Independents, 50 3 6 8 1 6 6 —9

A Dember umpired the game. A number of errors was made on both sides which was the cause of the large score. The Greeneville were a heavier team than the locals, and it was thought by all that they would have a walkover. But by errors of Greeneville and good playing by the locals they obtained the lead in the first inning and held it.

The two games which were to have been played Monday between the locals and the team from the Y. M. C. A. camp at Gardner Lake was cancelled Saturday, as the team had to return to their homes in Brooklyn, N. Y.

David Copperfield.

The announcement that Edward C. White's special production of Charles Dickens' wonderful novel, "David Copperfield," will be presented at the Broadway theater on Wednesday, September 8th, has brought forth much favorable.

Mr. Editor: We read of great things in science and invention and have long since ceased to wonder, but when we learn of a whole mob of Sunday school children with their "sisters and cousins and their aunts." about to swoop down upon the home of their superintendent on the night set apart for the celebration of the 25th anniversary of his marriage, and for this event, invitations to friends whom the families. for this event, invitations to friends whom the family care to receive, have been given, and ample preparations for their entertainment under way who would not wonder? Because of its being a church organization does not make this breach of etiquette any the less flagrant or the inquisitive-ness of those who would live to "see besiege a home on such an occasion, turning the night of festivity into a pandemonium, is, to say the least, an imposition and devoid of good com-
